Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 19 November 2002.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "pattern of shallow grooves" must be shown or the feature canceled from the claim. No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Regarding claims 7 and 8, the phrase "such as" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(c) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 2834

5. Claims 1, 4, 12 and 14 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ichiyama (US6549366).

Ichiyama discloses a spindle comprising a shaft (22), a sleeve (26) being coaxial with the shaft, a first gap (Column 5, lines 7-8 and 10-11), a hub (24) bound to the sleeve, a second gap (25) and the hub being adapted to be secured to a rotor magnet (Column 5, lines 3-8). (See Figure 2)

With regards to claim 4, Ichiyama discloses the gap being filled with air, a low permeable material.

With regards to claims 12 and 14, the method of insulating a spindle assembly against magnetic flux is inherent in the structure disclosed by Ichiyama.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ichiyama (US 6549366) in view of Ichiyama (US 6456458).

Ichiyama discloses the claimed invention but fails to disclose the grooves in the shaft. In '458 figure 5B, Ichiyama discloses the grooves formed in the shaft for the purpose of providing support against radial loads acting on the shaft.

Art Unit: 2834

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use the grooves disclosed by Ichiyama on '458 on the motor structure disclosed by Ichiyama '366 for the purpose of providing support against radial loads acting on the shaft.

With regards to claim 13, the method of insulating a spindle assembly against magnetic flux is inherent in the motor structure disclosed by the combination of Ichiyama's '366 and '458.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 7 and 8 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

9. Claims 5-6 and 15-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to teach either alone or in combination the large gap filled with epoxy and the prior art fail to teach the gap being in the range of 200-300 microns.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 7 and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Art Unit: 2834

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.
